Michael Baisden

Michael Baisden is a nationally-renowned radio personality, author, and host of his own show, "The Michael Baisden Show". Born June 26, 1963, the Chicago native has achieved many milestones with over 2 million books in print, producing three films, and hosting two shows. In addition to this, Baisden has toured all over the US as a motivational speaker touching on topics such as romance, truth/ lies, and relationships. While doing all of this, Baisden also manages to remain active within the community, arranging marches, free clinics, and mentoring programs through his Michael Baisden Foundation for at-risk youth. Baisden is the father one child, and currently has homes in both New York City, NY and Miami, FL.

Book Synopsis: Raise Your Hand If You Have Issues

Achieving success, happiness, and inner peace only happens when you stop trying to mold yourself into other people's expectations. It's okay to take advice from friends and family about starting a business or improving your relationship, but the key to winning in life is learning how to think for yourself and set your own boundaries.

"As a college dropout, former Air Force Sergeant, single parent and transit worker from the south side of Chicago, I want my life to mean something. That opportunity came when I stepped out on faith to live my dream. That courageous step resulted in 5 bestselling books, a national radio show airing in 100 cities, 2 national tv shows, mentoring partnerships, and social activism. Those things would have never happened if I didn't learn to become an expert at managing my own life, my own business, and my own journey! Stop trying to fit into someone else's box. Dare to be different and create a unique life that works best for you!" – Michael Baisden
