

Author Bio

Porsha is a multifaceted individual, seamlessly balancing her roles as a devoted Christian, a mother to three remarkable daughters, and an accomplished writer with a lifelong passion for poetry. Recognized for her impactful contributions to various organizations, including church, Breakout (Millennial), and street ministry, Porsha's eloquent words resonate with diverse audiences through her engaging speaking and spoken word performances. In addition to her literary pursuits, Porsha finds inspiration in her delightful grandchildren, Jonah Kai and Journee Jade, particularly channeling that inspiration into crafting compelling children's books. As an Evangelist, she dedicates herself to spiritual outreach, complemented by her love for baking, top-tier cleaning, and a compassionate commitment to feeding those in need.
