

T. J. Garrett

Born and raised in Tennessee, Tammy "T. J." Garrett is the Founder and CEO of Juanese Company. ('One-Niece', not 'one-nephew'). Seeing children smile and playing a part in them learning has always brought her joy. Now, coupled with the joy of writing, T. J. began writing children's books, and later pursued the idea of self-publishing. The pursuit of publishing led her to tap into other creative abilities and God-given talents; the basis on which her business was formed.

One of T. J.'s latest titles, "Where Is Sam?", is a book based on a little boy's search for his pet cat, Sam. Come along and follow in this game of hide-and-go-seek to see where it leads.
