Jalen Hines is a passionate graphic designer and illustrator from Memphis, Tennessee. A Central High School graduate with two certifications from the Tennessee College of Applied Technology, Jalen specializes in creating impactful designs and vibrant illustrations. As an author and illustrator for the Hines Family Children's Book Collection, he inspires young readers with engaging stories and positive messages. Known for his collaborative approach, Jalen partners with local businesses and startups, delivering high-quality branding and marketing materials. Dedicated to uplifting his community, Jalen strives to inspire others—especially kids—through his creativity, leaving a lasting impression on Memphis's visual and cultural landscape.

James Hines, a Memphis native and recent Central High School graduate, is a multi-sport athlete whose experiences in football, wrestling, and track have instilled values of teamwork, discipline, and perseverance. As part of his family business, HP Customs and Crafts, James has honed skills in customer service, production, and operations, emphasizing hard work and quality service. Passionate about creativity, he enjoys cutting hair, baking cookies, and inspiring the next generation. As an author for the Hines Family Children's Book Collection, James shares meaningful stories promoting self-love and positivity, empowering young minds to embrace their potential and build inclusive communities.

Hines Family Children's Book Collection

The Hines Family Children's Book Collection features heartwarming stories designed to inspire and uplift young readers. Through vibrant illustrations and meaningful messages, our books promote self-love, fairness, and imagination, encouraging kids to embrace who they are and create a positive impact on the world around them. Perfect for families, educators, and libraries, this collection aims to spark a lifelong love for reading while fostering kindness and inclusion.
