

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

KAREN REED was born in Brooklyn, New York. She relocated to Memphis, Tennessee, in 2006, making it her hometown.

Karen is a Christian and a devoted wife, mother, and grandmother.

She earned her bachelor's degree from the University of Tennessee at Martin and has had a career in finance. In addition, Karen is a notary public, a real estate investor and a game developer.

In 2009, Karen created Lots of Good Men, a whimsical matchmaking and storytelling card game for women. She travels the world, sharing her game with women who aspire to get married or strengthen their marriages.

ABOUT THE BOOK

Discover the ultimate guide for women embarking on their journey to marriage. This insightful book explores the essential considerations every woman should reflect on before saying "I do." From understanding the marriage contract to evaluating their own lifestyle and identifying the qualities of a compatible partner, Lots of Good Men: Meeting and Marrying a Good Man empowers readers to make informed decisions about love and commitment.

Author Karen Reed writes with the warmth and honesty of a trusted aunt or close friend who has been there. Her advice is heartfelt, relatable, and designed to help you navigate the journey without falling into common pitfalls. Throughout the book, Karen shares personal anecdotes and helpful resources, adding depth and authenticity to her guidance.

Packed with practical advice and thought-provoking insights, this book is a must-read for anyone seeking to navigate the complexities of relationships and build a strong foundation for a lasting marriage. Prepare for a transformative exploration of love, self-discovery, and partnership.

