MARGARASH

Mark Riddle is a Memphis Public Library librarian and storyteller. Born in Australia, he has lived in four different countries and has so many books that recently one of his bookshelves collapsed. He enjoys hiking with his family and talking about graphic novels with everybody.

Down below the cushions of your couch dwells a coin-loving monster. Listen closely and you might even hear him sing:

'The coins that fall are for Margarash,
Margarash, Margarash,
The coins that fall are for Margarash, leave them where they lie'.
