

Author Bio

Kiera is a creative force with a passion for family, storytelling, and empowerment. Originally from Indiana, she has called Memphis home for the past 17 years, embracing the city's rich culture and sense of community. Kiera is a master stylist and salon owner with over 19 years of experience in the beauty industry. Now, as a first-time author, she channels that same passion into helping families preserve their unique legacies.

Her work reflects her dedication to uplifting others, whether through creating stunning styles or encouraging families to preserve their unique legacies. Kiera's debut book, Family Wealth of Knowledge, is a testament to her belief in the power of connection, heritage, and passing wisdom to future generations.
