

Stacy Hobson, MBA

"Process the pain, Transfer it into power Move forward with your purpose"
-Stacy Hobson, MBA

Cancer Survivor | Kidney Warrior | Author | Servant to the Living God!
Stacy Hobson has survived everything that was meant to destroy her.

Since 2005, she has built a successful real estate brokerage, where she teaches educational classes to help guide buyers, sellers, and investors. Before entering real estate, Stacy taught high school Biology for six years and spent more than twelve years teaching Sunday School. She is a passionate world traveler, animal lover, and finds joy connecting with people from all walks of life.

Stacy serves as a ministry lead at Brown Missionary Baptist Church, where her commitment to faith and service continues to inspire those around her. She is a proud Memphian and graduate of the University of Memphis. She bleeds blue and puts the grit in the grind. She loves the Tigers, the Grizzlies, and the slang—it's a Memphis 'thang, mane'!

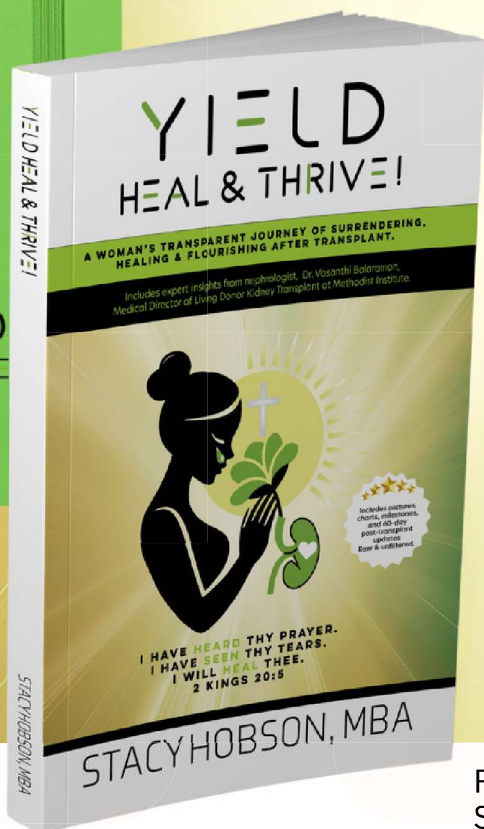

Yield, Heal & Thrive!

Take a ride on this remarkable journey—from life before diagnosis to the shocking moment Stacy learned the truth about her faltering kidneys, through the challenges of the transplant process. She holds nothing back!

Against all odds, Stacy survived stage 5 kidney disease for over eight years without falling ill or undergoing dialysis—and she share it all: The photos, the charts, the milestones, and the expert insights of Dr. Balarman—this is the story behind the story. Stacy opens up about what she got right, what she got wrong, and everything in between! Wait until you see how God unveils His master plan in her life! Honest. Unfiltered. Real.

To complement the memoir, is a beautiful journal to capture your goals, reflections and daily inspiration. Made with purpose.

For more information connect with Stacy Hobson or Yield, Heal & Thrive on:

StacyHobson.info

