

Kween Pen

Kween Pen is an Urban Romance and Urban Suspense author who boasts a raw and unique voice with stories that know no boundaries and cross genre lines. Through her writing, Kween Pen hopes to bring to light the story of the plight of the everyday person.

With a degree in English for Corporate Communications, Kween Pen is also a professional manuscript editor and is currently pursuing her Master's degree in Creative Writing. She lives in Tennessee with her two children and their lovable Shiba Inu, Kashmere.

A wedding is usually the end of a story, the happily ever after everyone dreams of, but for Orlando and Latrisha Cochran, their wedding is just the beginning. When their group of best friends flies out to L.A. the week before the wedding for a prenuptial celebration, turmoil ensues. Secrets are uncovered, hidden animosity comes to light, and just when it all seems to be out in the open, the groom and best man's secret lives as trained assassins threaten to bring the entire circle to its knees. With the lives of their loved ones hanging in the balance, Orlando and his best friend Antonio are tasked with saving them all while making their exit from the lifestyle no one knew they were living.
