

Christopher Basquez

Christopher Basquez is the son of Ashley Basquez.. Christopher attends Grizzlies Preparatory for Boys Charter School where he is in the seventh grade. Christopher aspires to be a historian.

Memphis Parks
Literacy Meets Recreation
Young Authors Guild Inaugural Member

About the Book

Being a big brother isn't always easy—especially when it feels like you're the referee in every game and the peacemaker in every fight. When a video game match turns into pushing, shouting, and even tears, Christopher steps in to remind everyone that being friends means more than just winning.

In this powerful and relatable story, 11-year-old Christopher Basquez shares a real-life moment about standing up to bullying, protecting his little brother, and learning what it truly means to lead with kindness. Inspired by the words of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and the wisdom of his mom, Christopher shows that courage doesn't always look like fighting—it looks like speaking up.

A must-read for kids learning how to manage conflict, defend others, and be the kind of friend (and sibling!) the world needs more of.

Books available for purchase online at Amazon and Barnes and Noble www.liberationpublishing.com